

THE LIVING AGE

E PLURIBUS UNUM

"These publications of the day should from time to time be winnowed, the wheat carefully preserved, and the chaff thrown away."

"Made up of every creature's best."

"Various, that the mind
Of desultory man, studious of change
And pleased with novelty, might be indulged."

THE WORLD OVER IN 1940 —

—just out, is unique among annuals.

The reason? THE WORLD OVER is The Living Age Annual, prepared and written by the Editors of the oldest American monthly, the magazine which for ninety-seven years has specialized in interpreting current world events to American readers.

THE WORLD OVER Series covers the year 1938. The series was established at that time so that both historians and lay readers could review the current wartime-scene, in whole or in part, with a maximum of confidence, in a minimum of time.

The second volume, THE WORLD OVER IN 1939, was expanded in size to include the outbreak of the Second World War.

The third volume—THE WORLD OVER IN 1940—contains more than 900 pages with index. Handsomely printed in compact form for permanent reference use, it costs only $4 a copy, postpaid. Mail the appended coupon to assure prompt receipt of your copy.

THE YARDSTICK PRESS ANNOUNCES

March 17, the Publication of A LIVING AGE BOOK NEW POEMS: 1940

An Anthology of British & American Verse
Edited by Oscar Williams

WHAT ever else it may have buried, the landslide of events has not buried our poets. In fact, the poets are more than ever concerned with the realities. Here is their answer to an age of unrest. Most of the verse included has been written or published since Sept. 1, 1939. The most important year in modern history may well have produced the most important poetry of the decade, and this anthology is an attempt to explore the poetic output of that period. A stirring collection! With 30 Portraits of the Living Poets.

THE GUIDE POST

PIERRE LOVING is on the staff of the National Youth Administration, working with problems of morale and "civilian passive defense." Pigeon Wing or Caviar (p. 14) deals with one of them.

PETER QUENNELL once taught English literature at a Japanese university, the Tokyo Bunrika Daigaku, but says that he has since "reverted to authorship and literary criticism." The authoritative Caroline of England was a recent result. The Comic Strips in England (p. 21).

JULIAN HUXLEY is the author of innumerable works on biology and related subjects. On page 48 he applies the scientific mind to Two Versions of Democracy.

FRED ALEXANDER, professor of history at the University of Western Australia in Perth, was a delegate to the League of Nations. His writings include From Paris to Locarno. What Americans Think of Australia (p. 54).

C. E. M. JOAD is head of the department of philosophy and psychology at Birkbeck College, the University of London. Man's New Power Poses a Problem (p. 60).

ARTHUR SETTEL, who has written for The Living Age before, is now editor of the American Hebrew. The Jews' Stake in Palestine (p. 68).

SOICHI SAITO—Christian Church Growth in Japan (p. 79)—has been since 1918 the general secretary of the Japanese National Committee of the Y.M.C.A.

"Our Own Bookshelf": OLAND D. RUSSELL was for many years the Tokyo correspondent of the old New York World and is the author of The House of Mitsui. He is now news editor of the New York World Telegram. JOSEPH HILTON SMYTH, former editor of The Living Age, last Fall published his autobiography under the title To Nowhere and Return. C. K. CUMMING is London correspondent for several American journals.
